

BCMC Library New Books—Fall 2017

Biography

- B Lewis Lewis, John, Across That Bridge, 2012. John Lewis is using his experiences during the Civil Rights Movement to inform the present.
- B Vance Vance, J. D., Hillbilly Elegy, 2016. A story of a struggling white working family in the Rust Belt.

Non-Fiction

- 226.2 Sp Spong, John Shelby, Biblical Literalism: A Gentile Heresy, 2016. A radical way of looking at the gospels today.
- 261.7Ju Juhnke, James C. A People of Two Kingdoms II, 2016. This is the second volume of Stories of Kansas Mennonites in Politics.
- 277.3 Hi Hill, Daniel, White Awake, 2017. A wise guide for those who want to learn more about both theology and the practice of reconciliation in America today.
- 808.1 Se Sevilla, Janice Waltner, Through a Lens Oblique, 1999. These are selected poems by Janice Waltner Sevilla.
- 910.9 Du Dugard, Martin, The Explorers, 2014. A story of fearless outcasts, blundering geniuses and impossible success.

Fiction

- F Bischof Bischof, Joanne, The Lady and the Lion Heart, 2016. This is a story of circus actor who lovingly cares for his pride of lions and who has a private life on the side.
- F See See, Lisa, The Tea Girl of Hummingbird Lane, 2017. This is a story about two women separated by circumstances and the enduring connection between mothers and daughters.

Easy

- E Mattlick Mattlick, Lindsay, Finding Winnie, 2015. This is the true story of a bear who inspired Winnie-the-Pooh.

E McBrier McBrier, Page, Beatrice's Goat, 2004. This is a story of how the gift of a goat helps an African village.

E McPhail, David, Weezer Changes the World, 2009. Even an ordinary dog can have a profound effect on those around him.